 (2003, 7.7 acres)
 Somers Township,
 Preble County

This conservation easement in southern Preble County permanently protects a 7.6-acre parcel of land from development and detrimental uses. This rolling, rugged property features both upland and wet areas. In creating this landmark easement, Preble County Commissioners voted to support the first conservation lot split, approving the rezoning of this new parcel contingent upon its protection by conservation easement.
